POLICEMAN SHOT AT MT. PLEASANT.

Chief Braden Pore Receives Fatal Wound at Hands of Andrew Lindsay.

EXCITED CROWDS AT MIDNIGHT.

Made Thorough Search for Young Lindsay Who Escaped With Companion Tom Wilson—Reward Offered for Their Capture—Wounded Man Operated on But Has Remote Chances.

Special to The Courier Mt. Pleasant, Pa., April 6.—The prevalent practice of packing picnics in a peaceful community seemed last night to have been shattered by the shooting of Chief Braden Pore at Mt. Pleasant. The shooting took place at about 10 o'clock on Main street, and the crowd was estimated at about 100 persons. The shooting was the result of a dispute between Chief Braden Pore and a young man named Andrew Lindsay. Lindsay was operated on at the Mt. Pleasant Hospital, but his chances are remote.

Lindsay was arrested at the hospital and taken to the jail. He was charged with the shooting of Chief Braden Pore. Lindsay was born in 1885 and is a native of Mt. Pleasant. He has been in the habit of drinking and has been arrested several times for the same reason. Lindsay was a member of the local police force and was well known to the community.

A peculiar feature is that Lindsay was found with a revolver in his hand. The revolver was a .38 caliber and was a Smith & Wesson make. Lindsay was also found with a knife in his pocket. The knife was a pocket knife and was a W. & W.
make. Lindsay was also found with a pair of gloves in his pocket. The gloves were a pair of white gloves and were a pair of white gloves.

A crowd collected and one of the first to see the shooting was Dr. P.
L. Marsh. Dr. Marsh was in the habit of seeing the shooting and was in the habit of seeing the shooting.

At the hospital at 10 o'clock this morning one of the nurses said that Pore's condition was all that could be expected. That he was holding his breath and was not so far from being well.

With the shooting the case was terse and serious with all who knew of it and persons were organized to hunt down the two young men. There was a great deal of excitement and the crowd was estimated at about 100 persons. The shooting was the result of a dispute between Chief Braden Pore and a young man named Andrew Lindsay.

Wickhaven, Pa., April 6.—The body of a young man named John Lindsay was found in the coal mine at Wickhaven. The body was found in the coal mine and was the result of a dispute between Lindsay and Chief Braden Pore.

Lindsay was a member of the local police force and was well known to the community. He was a young man and was in the habit of drinking and had been arrested several times for the same reason.

THE CENTENNIAL DATE IS CHANGED.

Executive Committee Voted to Set Four Days Earlier—Beginning August 14.

REASONS GIVEN FOR ACTION.

Money It Was Stated Could Not Be Raised by July 1 and Public Sentiment Appeared to Dictate a Later Date Than One First Agreed Upon and Set by the Committee.

The Centennial celebration of the United States will be held in Pittsburgh, Pa., on August 14, 1906.
The date was changed from the original date of July 4, 1906, due to the fact that the money for the celebration could not be raised by July 1, 1906.

The Executive Committee of the Centennial Commission has voted to change the date of the celebration to August 14, 1906. The committee stated that the money for the celebration could not be raised by July 1, 1906.

The committee also stated that the public sentiment appeared to dictate a later date than one first agreed upon and set by the committee. The committee also stated that the date of August 14, 1906, was chosen because it was a day of national importance.

Smithfield, April 5.—Rev. W. O. David of Monaca, W. Va., came down yesterday morning and is transacting some business matters in town and vicinity.

F. H. Dago, representing the manufacturers of the Birmingham adding machine, was here in the interest of the company yesterday.

Prof. F. R. House, who has just closed a successful term as principal of the borough schools, will open a Normal in the public school building on April 20, giving an eight weeks' course in the common branches and theory of teaching, including methods, management and practical psychology. The purpose is to prepare teachers and those who wish to teach, for teachers' examination, and for their work as teachers, to promote the educational welfare of the community.

Smithfield's visitors to Washington, D. C., are enjoying themselves in the City of Magnificent Distances. A card from Miss Etta Hays to a friend here says they are having a fine time. They have a nice room on Pennsylvania avenue, but are not in it much.

The people of Old Brownfieldtown are too busy to read a morning paper, also an evening one, it is not readable.

Prof. House drove through a portion of old Smithfield last night in the interest of his Normal.

The following is a partial list of letters remaining in the Smithfield post office, unclaimed: M. Anderson, Mrs. Allen Boland, Henry Gaby, Robert Antonio Donaghy, Mrs. Harry Dwyer, Mrs. Davis, Dan E. No Other Pennsylvania Store Has Grown Like This.

To be successful for a short time means nothing. Dishonestly succeeds some times—for a little while. If there's rottenness at the root the tree won't thrive. If, however, a business grows and grows and continues to grow—it must be sound and clean in root, in branch, in principle and practice.

And if our store shows a greater and sounder growth than any other store in the same city—that one store must, of necessity, deserve every dollar's worth of prosperity that comes to it.

No store in the city has ever grown so amazingly as Aaron's.

Just think of it—the greatest furniture and carpet store in the state of Pennsylvania. And this in a territory which was said when we first came here to be overcrowded with furniture stores—in a city where other furniture stores, it is true, have shown practically no growth at all.

You can't explain these things away. You cannot dismiss them with a wave of the hand.

They mean that a majority of the people of Western Pennsylvania who buy furniture—a big majority—have found this to be the highest class and yet withal the most saving and satisfactory of its kind in the city.

We carry more customers on our books today than all the other furniture houses in the city combined. All these customers have "shopped" and compared; and any or all of them will tell you that "you'll do better at Aaron's," better in price and better in value.

We do not hesitate to say that our furniture, despite its high standard, is bought on a closer basis than that of any other furniture house in the city.

We do not hesitate to say that we buy a greater volume of furniture, carpet, etc., than any other store in the western part of the state.

We do not hesitate to say that

You'll Do Better at Aaron's

We may have made, in the foregoing statement, some claims that seem sensational. Well, in some ways are claims our sensational, because it is a somewhat sensational matter we are speaking of—a sensational growth of a store which we hope you are proud of.

You may not know it, but the furniture men of the whole United States know the details of our rapid forward strides and they use us as an example in speaking of wonderful gains and the beauty of square dealing.

Our new store, which we are now occupying, has been pictured in trade papers and magazines and has been cited in one instance as "the greatest and most completely equipped store in any city of less than 200,000 inhabitants in the United States."

We hope you will pardon the length of this talk today on the ground that we are enthusiastic about the new place—but at the same time we want you to recollect that every statement made in this announcement has been weighed as carefully as a piece of gold and, as they say in Missouri, we are prepared to SHOW YOU.

Store Closes at 6 P. M. Except Monday and Saturday.

The Shoe Question Before Us

at the present time is how to get the best value for the least money. Competition is keen and we are still looking at the head of the procession as given of the best values in town. There is no question about the superiority of our shoes and the cheapness of our prices. We select only one trial, and leave your future trading to your own judgment afterwards.

MACE'S BIG OPENING.

Hundreds of People Thronged Popular Store All Day Yesterday.

A FINE DISPLAY OF GOODS.

Everything That the Shopper Likes and Wants Is There—Military Band Gave Concert During the Evening—Some of the Popular Styles.

The annual Easter opening of Mace's Company was held Thursday morning, afternoon and evening. Despite the downpouring rain hundreds of shoppers visited the various departments of the big store to inspect and admire one of the finest selections of merchandise ever placed on exhibition in Connellsville. Preceding the opening Thursday evening a concert was rendered by the Connellsville Military Band from 7:30 until 8 o'clock.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the main entrance leading to the goods department was thrown open to the mass of people who were inspecting the artistic display of goods passed in the aisles leading to the clothing floor. The ladies were presented with curricula vitae which were given to the men. The military department under the management of Mrs. Harold Baker attracted the attention of the most distinctive shape in hats is the new sailor with its flat crown and tilted on the left side by a band making the tilt unique and new. One of the new features in millinery this spring is the combination of embroidery and straw. Another noticeable feature in millinery is the hat of a light shade introducing the trimming of a dark color. The round crown with the trim falling on the left side is another of the newest shapes. The popular shades are rose, oyster white, reseda, green and Alice blue. Black and white is also considered very smart. Some very pretty hats being shown in these shades. For trimming flowers, quills and agate run riot. In the ready made suit department was shown a great variety of gowns suits, coats, skirts and waists. In the large department on the first floor was a display of dress goods and trimmings, as well as work, Battenburgs and silks.

The display of shoes and clothing was equally as large. The display of wash goods, including all the newest patterns of the Dolly Varden style was a big one. While the dress goods department was complete with all the newest shades, including reseda, green, Alice blue, rose, oyster white, a large selection of silks, which are so popular at the present time were also shown.

A glimpse of the beauty of the interior of the store is reflected in the large display windows. The decorations are in keeping with the Easter season. An artistic display of all the latest novelties in men's furnishings is on exhibit in the upper and lower windows, while the large window is attractive with its latest showing of gowns and millinery. The entire store was artistically decorated for the opening. The various departments were filled with the very best of spring goods. Blue and white was the principal color used in carrying out the artistic decorative scheme. Every conceivable space was banked with palms, ferns, while flowering plants of various colors adorned the corners and centers. In the shoe case was displayed an elegant set of men's black wear shoes, black and lace. Shown in the men's furnishings department were all the latest novelties for spring and summer wear.

The countess of the managers and the employees added much to the success of the opening.
